All was quiet in the Panzer Kaserne in Borna on 5 September 1953. The motor vehicle sheds were vacant. Sentries observed wore red-bordered black epaulets without branch-of-service insignia. A few officers wearing tank and artillery insignia and troops wearing black-bordered crimson epaulets were seen en route to and from the installation. On 10 September, a JS-3 tank occupied by 5 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets with tank insignia entered the installation. The imprints of the tank tracks led to the railroad station.
